

Pharmaceutical Drugs Classification

Airis Alesya Binti Shafarin | FCS13225

Problem Statement

Slide in progress...

Monitoring Health

Thermometers, blood pressure monitors, and oxygen tools are essential for observation. They allow professionals to track vital signs and make life-saving decisions.

Protection and Safety

Masks, gloves, and sanitizers reflect defense. They are shields against invisible threats, ensuring both patients and caregivers remain safe.

Healing and Recovery

Medicines, pills, and syringes reflect treatment. They embody science and discovery, designed to fight illness and restore strength.

Support in Difficult Times

Wheelchairs, crutches, and scales symbolize recovery journeys. They represent resilience, reminding us that healing is a process supported by care.

The Power of Blood

Blood bags and IV drips are symbols of life itself. They remind us that sometimes, survival depends on the simplest yet most vital resources.

Heart of Humanity

The image of the heart with energy reflects both vulnerability and strength. It represents the mission of healthcare to protect life at its very core.

Tools of Prevention

From baby bottles to medical thermometers, prevention is as vital as cure. These tools ensure health is protected at every stage of life.

Closing

Healthcare is not just science but compassion in action. Each tool here reflects the dedication to healing, protecting, and improving the quality of life.